

*The Center for Demographic & Social Analysis
Presents*

Mark Hayward

Professor of Sociology, University of Texas

WHY IS CHILDHOOD SO IMPORTANT IN UNDERSTANDING WHY DEMENTIA IS EPIDEMIC AMONG BLACK AMERICANS?

Older black Americans grew up in the Jim Crow era when blacks were barred from quality education, adequate nutrition, and a life free of infection and stress. Given the sensitivity of brain development to early life exposures, does a racialized and disadvantaged childhood place older black Americans at great risk of dementia?

Click link for Mark Hayward webpage information

Tuesday, May 14, 2019

12:30 - 1:30 p.m.

SSPB-Room 4250

Light Lunch for Early Arrivals